Heat a non-stick pan or griddle plate over a medium heat and brush with a little oil and sear salmon for 30 seconds on each side.

Prepare ramen as per packet instructions. Add the noodles to soup and heat through for one minute. Gently stir in the tofu and soy sauce then heat for one minute.

Ladle the soup and noodles into the serving bowls and top decoratively with Salmon and serve garnished with spring onion.

Note: Salmon may be replaced with tuna or white fish as required. If sashimi is preferred, skip step three.
