A tagine is a slow-cooked Moroccan stew (traditionally served over couscous) – but here it's quicker and (dare we say it?) tastier, thanks in large part to the bright spike of kumquats.

Ingredients (serves 6)

- 1 tbsp extra-virgin olive oil
- 2 onions, thinly sliced
- 4 cloves garlic, slivered
- 1 tbsp minced fresh ginger
- 1 kg boneless, skinless free range chicken thighs, trimmed of fat, cut into 1 cm pieces
- 1 tsp ground coriander
- 1 tsp ground cumin
- $\frac{3}{4}$ tsp ground cinnamon
- $\frac{1}{8}$ tsp ground cloves
- 1 x 400 ml vegetable broth
- 340 gm kumquats, seeded (see Tip) and roughly chopped (2 cups)
- 1 x 420 g can chickpeas, rinsed
- 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ tbsp honey
- Salt and pepper, to taste

Method

Kumquat tagine

Preheat oven to 180°C.

Heat oil in an ovenproof casserole dish over medium heat. Add onions; cook, stirring often, until softened, about four minutes. Add garlic and ginger; cook for one minute, stirring constantly.

Add chicken; cook, stirring often, for eight minutes. Stir in coriander, cumin, cinnamon, salt, pepper and cloves; cook until aromatic, about 20 seconds. Stir in broth, kumquats, chickpeas and honey. Bring to a simmer.

Cover the pan and transfer to the oven. Bake, stirring occasionally, until the chicken is cooked through and the broth is bubbling and somewhat reduced, about one hour.
